7 Escape Unhurt from Car Stalled in Train's Path

Two Marion women and five children escaped from a stalled automobile a few seconds before it was struck by an Erie passenger train at the North Prospect street crossing Saturday night at 8:30. The front end of the automobile was damaged and the vehicle was thrown sideways by the impact.

Mrs. C. P. Wren, 46, of 294 [illegible] street, driving the car, said she applied the brakes suddenly and placed the car in reverse gear when the watchman ran out and crying "Stop—back up." She said the motor stalled as she threw the gears into reverse.

She pushed her four children, Maxine, 14, Mary, 10, Dickie, 6, and Charles, 4, out of the automobile while Mrs. Nobel Holla[illegible]y of 394 Chestnut street, also an occupant of the car, helped her daughter Mary, 12, to safety. The two women then ran from the car and had taken only a few steps when the locomotive struck the car.

Mrs. Wren was driving south on Prospect street. The train was a westbound Erie passenger train.

The bumper and front part of the radiator of the automobile were badly torn. It was taken to the McDaniel Motor Co. garage.

DRIVER IN AUTO RACE INJURED

Suffers Punctured Lung and Bone Fractures in Crash at Fairgrounds

BLINDED BY DUST CLOUD

Car Goes Through Fence; Trouble Over Purses Cuts Program Short

Vernon McCombs, 40, of Houston, Tex., is in serious condition at the City hospital today as a result of injuries suffered when the racing car he was driving crashed through the fence during automobile races at the Marion county fairground yesterday afternoon. His injuries include a broken left shoulder, several broken ribs, a punctured left lung, broken right knee and burns and bruises about the arms and body.

Heavy dust enshrouding the entire track was blamed for the accident, which occurred during the second five-mile race. The car was not visible from the grandstand as it went into the north turn near the completion of the race but witnesses who were near the scene said the car struck the outside rail, skidded about 15 feet and then crashed through the fence as it hit the frame barricade the second time. Spectators rushed to the scene and lifted McCombs from the car, which was not badly damaged. The Schaffner Queen ambulance at the fairgrounds during the entire race program took the injured driver to the hospital.

McCombs, who was conscious when picked up by the ambulance attendants, said that the accident resulted when he was unable to see the track because of the dust. The car was owned by Jack Keys of Dallas, Tex., and was removed a short time later. Keys had qualified the car earlier in the day, when he drove the half mile lap in 31.1 seconds, but McCombs was selected to drive in the race. He was trailing behind Gail Lankert and Bill Carr, both of Carey, who with one other driver, Phil Mulaney of Springfield, composed the group entered in the event. They finished with Langert first, Carr second and Mulaney third.

In the first five-mile event Gordon Chard of Dallas, Texas, took first place, finishing in five minutes and 29 seconds. Others and the order in which they finished were Larry Beckett of Tampa, Fla., second; Johnny Crone of Canton,

MARION BRIDE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. James R. Quay in Canadian Hospital After Honeymoon Motor Car Crash

Mrs. James R. Quay, a bride of July 2, her husband and two friends who were accompanying them on a wedding trip were hurt last night in an automobile accident at Tillsonburg, Ontario, Canada, according to word received here in a telegram.

Mrs. Quay, who was formerly Miss Alice Marie Greenland of 573 Avondale avenue, is in a hospital but her condition is not serious, the telegram stated.

In a telephone conversation with hospital officials today the young woman's father learned that she had suffered a broken nose and a broken arm. Officials said she would not be released pending developments of the head injury.

Mr. Quay and the two friends, Miss Annabel Emmons of 562 Avondale avenue, who was Mrs. Quay's bridesmaid, and John Nesserole of Marion, escaped serious injuries.

The party left Marion Saturday for a week-end trip to Niagara Falls and Canada and were planning to return to Marion sometime today by way of Detroit.

Mrs. Quay is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Greenland of 573 Avondale avenue and Mr. Quay is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Quay of 131 East Columbia street. Their home is at 562 Avondale avenue.

CRYSTAL LAKE SETS SIX-YEAR RECORD

More Than 6,000 Bathers There in Last Week-end

Attendance records of six years' standing were smashed at Crystal Lake swimming pool over the week-end when more than 6,000 heat harassed residents of Marion and vicinity basked in the cooling water to gain relief from the searing temperatures.

The management of Crystal Lake reported that more than 3,500 bathers flocked to the pool yesterday and that on Saturday an attendance mark of 2,500 was recorded.

Failure of the attendance on hot days in other years since 1929 to measure up to the mark set in the last few days is blamed on business conditions. The management attributes the current crowds not only to the torrid temperatures but to "better times." The water at the pool this year is reported to be excellent.

DEMOCRAT IN MARYLAND TO SUPPORT GOV. LANDON

William C. Bruce Bitterly Disappointed Over Roosevelt and "Gratified" by Kansan's Choice

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kas., July 13.—A letter from William Cabell Bruce, former Democratic senator from Maryland, saying he was "bitterly disappointed in President Roosevelt and deeply gratified" at Alf M. Landon's nomination, was made public today at the office of the Republican presidential candidate.

The communication was given out just prior to a conference set for today between Landon and George N. Peek, former new deal official and student of farm and foreign trade problems. Beside the Bruce letter half a dozen others signed by persons representing themselves as Democrats who would support the Landon-Knox ticket were made public at the Kansas governor's office.

Landon aids said Peek, who was the first administrator of the new deal's AAA and later a special adviser to President Roosevelt on foreign trade, had requested the conference with Landon since withdrawing from the Roosevelt administration after splitting with Secretary Hull over reciprocal tariff policies. Peek has been a frequent critic of the new deal.

Peek favored bilateral trade treaties as opposed to the reciprocal tariffs pacts negotiated by Hull which, under the most favored nation policy, extended the benefits granted in a single reciprocal treaty to all nations having most favored nation agreements with the United States.

Landon returned to his office today from a week-end at the Bonner Springs, Kas., home of Lacy Haynes, Kansas newspaper man and adviser. On his calling list were Alfred H. Kirchhofer, new publicity director of the Republican national committee, and Hill Blackett, public relations director.

ROOSEVELT TO VIEW OHIO FLOOD REGION

Groups Present Program to President About To Start on Vacation

By The Associated Press

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 13.—Representatives of the New England and New York and Ohio valley groups of the United States Flood Control federation today laid a three-way emergency program before President Roosevelt and said afterward the chief executive had promised to visit some of these areas sometime in August.

The group, representing New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and New England states, presented the following program to the President at his Hyde Park home:

1. That he direct the chief of army engineers to use available war department funds to proceed immediately with borings and other preliminary [illegible] work on emergency projects authorized in the 1936 omnibus $320,000,000 [illegible] without waiting for congress to appropriate the funds next year.

Spokesmen for the group said that the President told them that [illegible] work already had begun and [illegible] the preliminary work will be done by CCC and WPA workers.

2. That the President [illegible] the national resources board to meet with a committee of the federation before Aug. 1 to determine what emergency projects shall be started first and when. The projects would be recommended by the representatives of the states having [illegible] with the federal government.

PARENTS AND TWO CHILDREN PERISH IN FLAMING WRECKAGE

Auto Struck by Bus as Victims Leave Home Near Meeker; Driver To Face Manslaughter Charge.

A MARION COUNTY MAN, his wife and two children died in the wreckage of their flaming automobile Saturday night after it had been struck by a huge interstate passenger bus in front of the McGuire home six miles west of Meeker on the Harding highway.

A fifth member of the family, the 19-year-old driver of the car, was saved when bus passengers pulled him from the wreckage a moment before it burst into flames.

The dead:

Carl McGuire, 43, his wife, Ercell, 41, and two sons, Karl Eugene, 9, and Charles Edwin, 3.

Two members of the family survive.

A charge of manslaughter was filed today in municipal court against C. W. Porter, 37, of 171 East Center street, driver of the Lincoln Trailways bus that struck the McGuire car. Porter has been held in technical custody since the crash and was to be arraigned today on the manslaughter charge, the prosecutor said. The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Nellie Arnold of Warsaw, Ind., sister of Mr. McGuire.

According to statements of passengers of the bus made in a coroner's inquest early Sunday morning, the bus was traveling between 40 and 50 miles an hour. The bus driver and two passengers said the McGuire car was without a taillight.

The driver further said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and did not see the McGuire car until the bus was virtually upon it.

Time of the crash was fixed at 9:35 p. m., according to statements of Porter and John McGuire. The car burst into flames about three minutes after the crash, a bus passenger said.

The four victims were burned beyond recognition while bus passengers stood by helplessly, held back from further rescue work by the flames. Bus passengers voiced belief that the aid of one more man would have enabled them to free all the passengers from the car before the fire started.

The sole survivor, John James McGuire, 19, who was driving the McGuire car, escaped with minor cuts and bruises but suffered severe shock. He was released yesterday afternoon from Antonio hospital at Kenton.

The other remaining member of the family of six, a daughter, Isabel, 17, was not in the car. She was spending the week-end at Indian Lake with a group of her classmates at the LaRue High school.

Formerly Lived Here

The McGuire family lived in Marion for about seven years, moving to the farm home, Sunny Side farm, six years ago last month. The farm, consisting of 79 acres, is owned by Mr. McGuire's father, J. [illegible] McGuire, aged 80, of northwest of LaRue, and is just east of the Marion-Hardin county line.

Before moving to the farm Mr. McGuire was employed as a machinist by the Marion Steam Shovel Co. For the last year he had been working nights as a lathe operator at the Shovel company plant, operating the farm by day.

While in Marion the family lived for a year on [illegible] street and then for six years at 528 Grey avenue.

The tragedy, which was one of the worst highway mishaps in the history of Marion county, came in the midst of the McGuires' week-end plans. [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Williams, [illegible] of Mt. Victory. Mrs. McGuire was a member of the Hinklin family.

The McGuire car was [illegible] a moment after it had pulled onto the Harding highway from the farm driveway.

[illegible] the car was less than 20 feet east of the driveway after that [illegible] the bus and automobile skidded 47 feet on the road before the car plunged into the ditch and [illegible].

The top of the car was crushed down over the occupants, making rescue work impossible until the car could be set on its wheels.

The story of how the driver and occupants of the bus fought against uneven odds to free the occupants of the car was unfolded in testimony taken at a coroner's inquest early Sunday morning. The inquest, starting at about 12:30, was held at the Marion police station.

The driver and the four men passengers of the bus struggled to right the overturned car while Mrs. Mary [illegible], 21, of Chicago, the only woman on the bus, held a flashlight to guide them in the rescue work. There were seven passengers on the bus, including two children.

Three attempts were made to lift the car, the driver being dragged from the wreckage when a car door flew open when the car once was partly righted. John McGuire then helped in the rescue work in the brief seconds before the fire started.

Young McGuire once before had nearly gotten out of the car only to be pinned again when one of the rescuers released his hold on the car to help McGuire, thereby causing the car to sag back into its overturned position.

A few moments after John McGuire's rescue an explosion in the engine spread flames over the front of the car, driving back the bus passengers and burning one of them.

A crowd of 200 persons gathered at the scene within an hour after the crash but no one arrived soon enough to help the five men and one woman in their desperate attempts to save the four in the car.

Police at Scene

State highway patrolmen and Police Chief William F. Marks went to the scene after the patrolmen had received a call by radio at 10:05 p. m. at their patrol car while cruising near Upper Sandusky.

In the group with Chief Marks were Lieut. J. W. Kirkpatrick of Findlay and State Patrolmen J. M. Kratzer and Ray P. Stewart.

Survivor's Statement

A version of the accident by the sole survivor of the car was given in a statement taken yesterday afternoon from John McGuire at Antonio hospital at Kenton by J. M. Kratzer, state highway patrolman stationed at Marion, and Coroner Milton F. Axthelm.

The youth's statement follows:

I was driving the car. We left

MAN "IN A HURRY" REFUSLS TO HELP

A [illegible] story of how a motorist who was "in a hurry" refused to give aid that might have saved the lives of members of the McGuire family killed Saturday night was told Sunday by the bus passengers who tried to save them.

The motorist stopped briefly and was asked to help them lift the overturned automobile from the victims. They said his answer was: "I'm in a hurry," got into his car, in which a woman companion was waiting, and drove on.

Several of the rescue workers told authorities after they believed the passengers could have been saved before the fire broke out had there been one more person to help them lift.

"San Francisco" at the Palace through Wednesday is a smash[illegible] drama that should be on every fan's "must" list. [illegible] able Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy are perfect in their roles and every role sub[illegible] [illegible] the stars is cast to perfection. No more realistic pictures were ever recorded by the camera than the earthquake scenes in which San Francisco and the old Barbary Coast were destroyed on April 18, 1906.

Miss MacDonald for the first time in her career as far as this reviewer is concerned does a splendid portrayal and her voice records with more beauty and resonance than before. The story sweeps along with great power gripping the audience with its intensity, relieving the tension with natural humor and with the fluttering helpfulness of Ted Healy. One of the best of the minor roles is taken by Jessie Ralph as the Nob Hill dowager and mother of Jack Holt, a mining camp washwoman who rises to become dictator of old San Francisco's aristocracy. She's in the picture for only several scenes but you remember her and her talk with Miss MacDonald.

Gable was never in better form than as the gambling czar of the Barbary Coast, a man with a code of ethics that is touched from time to time by his admiration and deep respect for Tracy in the role of the Barbary Coast priest, a two-fisted understanding minister whose clear conception of the coast and its life gives rise to one of the most dramatic scenes in the picture—the turning point in the career of Miss MacDonald when the priest takes her from Gable who is going to exploit her beauty and her voice in his Vice den and returns her to the old Tivoli Opera House and her career in opera. Miss MacDonald plays the role of a minister's daughter who goes to San Francisco to get a start in opera, meets Gable, is grateful when he offers her a job in his amusement hall and falls in love with him. Gable, whose finer instincts are a bit dulled, reaches the high role of his role in the scenes that follow the terrific earthquake and fire when he hunts madly for the girl he finally knows he loves and finds her giving her voice to comfort the earthquake victims. Tracy knows one of the deep satisfactions of his calling when Gable in the hours after the quake finds that there is some one besides himself to whom he must look for a full life.

A lovable cartoon comedy, "Two Little Pups," an interesting side lights picture on some of Hollywood's best known child actors and a newsreel complete the program.—H. H.

The Only Way?

In a recent [illegible] Secretary of Agriculture Wallace [illegible] considerable [illegible] down [illegible] light [illegible] abundant evidence to support him Mr Wallace declares the people have lost their religion. That is to say, in general the people no longer dogmatically accept the religious code of ethics because no longer do they believe it is supernatural and therefore infallible

Originally Mr Wallace [illegible] people accepted the simple moral ideas of home and family and work and thrift because they believed such ideas were sanctioned by the supernatural. As they lost their belief they came to reject the simple ideas they had gained from it. Instead of the driving power which their beliefs gave them the people increasingly will turn toward a cooperative form of living, the secretary believes

Mr Wallace poses a major philosophic question. There can be little doubt multitudes of persons have renounced faith in the supernatural. Increasingly they look to religion as a consolation, as an ideal code of ethics, but not as a voice of authority. Yet whether the new attitude toward religion produces an inevitable drive to cooperative economics still is a matter for debate

It appears Mr Wallace forgets the changing attitude has been developing for a long time, perhaps since the dawn of the industrial revolution. Throughout the industrial age people have been fired by the new urge to conquer their material world, to enrich society materially and to reap rewards for their work. Religion may have suffered in the meantime but it cannot be doubted the people already possess and will hold on to a new driving power

A few years ago Walter Lippmann posed similar questions but he dealt with them on a moral or philosophic plane. He saw society struggling for new ideals now that supernatural sanctions have been lost but he saw victory being won through the spread of education and the increasing of general intelligence. On the whole the evidence appears to be on Mr Lippmann's side. The people have the stimulus and inspiration to fight the good fight. There is little reason to believe they will trade the achievements and incentives of individualism for the uncertainties of collectivism

Simple

The heat is blamed for so many things perhaps it is about time it was credited with some accomplishment. It's probable for instance the following idea was wafted through the window on the crest of one of those breezes that flatter only to deceive

Two model homes are being opened for inspection in Cleveland priced about $6,500. Featuring their construction is warm air conditioning equipment. It is not plain from the announcement whether this means the torrid air will be cleansed down to the zestiness of the cool, 0's but the possibilities are obvious. If a beginning has been made can the end be far behind?

In a few years air cooling equipment may be as common in the home as the familiar bathtub. At which point the idea enters. When the cool millennium has been reached no longer through the land will be heard groans and laments over the breaking up of the American home. The whole family will stay home in the summer time and keep cool and the habit will persist through the winter

Maybe [illegible] Or perhaps a [illegible] breeze just sneaked in through the window. Anyway [illegible] Mr Average Man is all to buy a house fitted with a cooling plant [illegible] saloon [illegible] dance hall will be similarly equipped. Who will want to stay home then? Another idea that [illegible] only to deceive

Best Wishes

Sailing a small boat in the New England coast may not be considered universal as the best of fun but it's one man's idea of a perfect vacation. Since the man happens to be President Roosevelt the best wishes of his countrymen [illegible] and the [illegible] go with him

A President of the United States on vacation is far different from a President in the White House. While [illegible] self he is immune to all the stress and strain of his office. Americans [illegible] ally are jealous of the health and well being of their chief executive. Perhaps that is because they wouldn't enjoy [illegible] ing a man who didn't seem able to take

[illegible]

Who Speaks For Labor?

[illegible] w ith Presi[illegible] [illegible] labor and [illegible] been merged Mr [illegible] the President [illegible] the polls Mr [illegible] to assure Mr [illegible] of political support [illegible] Congress and [illegible] the federal [illegible] There has been no more important [illegible] during the 40th century

The [illegible] is revealed in the fact that an alliance between political and labor leadership in Germany has resulted in the world's biggest union, an organization of 25,000,000 German men and women dominated by the state. As the struggle in the United States resolves itself more and more clearly union labor will have to decide for itself whether or not it is willing to sacrifice its cherished independence of political parties to the ephemeral advantages of a political alliance. In the days to come it will be surprising if that issue does not transcend in importance the older issue between craft and industrial unionism

Method

In Utah, in Texas and New York five murderers were disposed of according to state law Thursday night and Friday morning. New York and Texas use the electric chair. Utah, which permits the victim of its capital punishment to choose between hanging and a firing squad, used the latter in its latest execution

It is interesting to note that 20 out of 21 persons executed in the state since it came into the union 40 years ago have chosen the firing squad. In view of the existence of strong popular sentiment against this method it is natural to wonder why the victims of capital punishment themselves should seem to favor it

Could it be because hanging has inherited an unpleasant connotation of dishonor which the murderer condemned to die does not find in the bullets of a firing squad? Is it because of a connection with the legend of heroes who have died in front of enemy firing squads? Is it because the quickness, the cleanness and utter finality of death by bullets appeal to the man who must apply the power of reason to the mode of his death?

It seems unlikely the firing squad will last much longer. Utah, only state offering it as an optional method, seems on the verge of abandoning it. As a sidelight on the always lively subject of capital punishment however it would be most interesting to know why Utah's condemned men have favored it

Platforms Merely Look Alike

Have Different Meanings and Would Not Be Carried Out the Same, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1936 by The Marion Star

[illegible]

Both parties are for a [illegible] opportunity to work.

Both [illegible] enterprise and [illegible]

[illegible]

Both parties [illegible] help agriculture [illegible]

[illegible] general [illegible] and their [illegible]

[illegible] parties [illegible] in favor of [illegible]

Both parties say they want to encourage legitimate business and industry

Both parties say they favor the maintaining free speech, press, radio, religion and assembly

Both parties say they want a sound currency and both favor stabilization of international currencies at the earliest practicable time

Both platforms declare for an enlargement of foreign trade

Both say they want to eliminate unemployment and both promise relief for the unemployed till private industry can absorb the idle

* * *

What then is all the shouting about? Why have a campaign? Why not flip a coin and pick a candidate or a party? The answer is that the platforms look alike but they do not mean the same things. Likewise even if they meant the same things they would not be carried out in the same way by the Republicans as by the new deal Democrats

But how would the platforms be carried out? What do we know about each party? The new deal points to its record and the Republicans likewise point to the same new deal record as an example of what would happen if the new deal were given larger powers in the federal mechanism of government

The new deal speakers on the other hand refer critically to the Republican record of 12 years and insist that the depression was caused by Republican policies. This is rather reminiscent of the old cry the Republicans used to have which is that the Democrats if elected would bring a panic

What then is the average man to do? Certainly he can not get very much enlightenment out of the similarity of objectives as expressed in the two platforms. Nor can he assume that a depression which swept the whole world was just brought on by one political party in the United States especially when other nations in the world have cut down their unemployment in the last three years and made rapid progress as has Canada without adopting new deal measures

* * *

The probable answer to the dilemma is a study of the character and purposes of Franklin Roosevelt and Alf Landon. When Sen Borah said that the candidates were the real party platforms he spoke what—to borrow a new deal phrase—might be called a self-evident truth

Of what avail then are party platforms? Many a student of politics has asked that question for many years. The platforms could be of the greatest value and accomplish a truly useful purpose as an integral part of the American system of government. There are two ways in which this could be achieved

One would be to let the party conventions nominate their candidates first and then take counsel with the successful aspirant for the nomination so that he might shape the platform to meet his concept of the campaign that should be waged. Such a method would increase interest in the pre-convention speeches of the would-be nominees

The other way would be to require each state delegation at least 30 days before the national convention to name a member of the platform committee and to hold meetings for 30 days prior to the convention so that all interested persons or groups could be heard and so that the party leaders would have ample time for conference and consultation and for the drafting of a platform of principles upon which legislation actually conforming to those principles could be based

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, July 13 — The spirit of President Roosevelt's Social Democrats here has perked up considerably since the drouth. Most of them seem to be actually gleeful on the side. They call it one of those Roosevelt breaks of luck

In their interpretation the situation has provided Mr Roosevelt with an opportunity to display his campaign wares in the best possible light

For example the rural resettlement administration of Prof Tugwell was dying on its feet. It was being soft-pedaled to a considerable extent, its publicity force was recently dismantled, Tugwell was being kept in hiding from the public sight. Few of Mr Roosevelt's Social Democrats were sufficiently social to want to defend it or Tugwell on their record of achievement

Since the drouth Mr Roosevelt has resuscitated both Tugwell and resettlement. Rushed them forward as one of the most important federal activities. He has carefully outlined at every opportunity the work the [illegible] is removing afflicted farmers to water and more productive enterprise elsewhere

The emergency has thus furnished justification and use for an enterprise which was being [illegible] on the new deal books as a liability

Another buried bureau which the drouth similarly brought forth from the grave is the Commodity Credit Corp

Gratifying

A contributing factor in the new glee is the Oklahoma primary result. The surprising showing of Congressman Lee in the senatorial race was gratifying because he went down the line for everything Mr Roosevelt wanted in his congressional term

No less pleasing were the results showing the Townsend candidate polled only a fraction of the total number of Democratic votes and the votes cast in the Republican primary were not comparable to the Democratic tota

Build Up

Postmaster General Farley's selection of Representative Sam Rayburn as chairman of the Democratic speakers bureau had more behind it than the choice of a speaker master who knows the ropes

Democratic congressmen recognized it as a move to build up Mr Rayburn in the event he decides to seek either the speakership or the majority leadership of the house at the next session. Vice President Garner is believed to have had something to do with it

Mr Rayburn [illegible] the [illegible] campaign [illegible] Democratic candidates for [illegible] who will elect the next speaker and floor leader. It is an excellent move for him because he had not been much in the public eye lately

Four years ago Mr Farley named Representative John McDuffie to an important post at Democratic headquarters. Mr McDuffie was then Garner's candidate for the speakership

McDuffie handled congressional phases of the campaign more or less overlapping the activities of the regular congressional campaign committee appointed by the house leaders. The move however was not successful as he lost the speakership contest

Score

The score on political propaganda is now Democrats 54, Republicans 5

You can confirm the totals [illegible] the latest copies of the Congressional Record, an adding machine and a little patience

It is customary at the end of the congressional sessions for the politicians to pack that official transcript of house and senate proceedings with all kinds of speech material. This year several supplements of the Record have been issued since congress expired and debate necessarily closed. More are coming. But so far 54 of the 59 published pages have been occupied with all those speeches delivered at the Philadelphia national convention together with political statements by Senators Robinson and Hayden. Republicans slipped in five pages of their competing propaganda while the other 90 pages went to small fry congressmen who published personal booms [illegible] their easier. Only one congressman used the space for the laudable purpose of setting forth his full voting record on every important item of legislation since he was elected

The Congressional Record is so highly favored because reprints [illegible] mailed free to all the 35,000,000 voters and their friends

Reason

The reason Postmaster General Farley had such a kindly feeling toward Senator Borah is because Mr Borah was one of the few Republican senators who voted against Huey Long's resolution for an investigation of Farley last year

BRITON CUTS HIS OWN SPEED MARK IN UTAH

By The Associated Press

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, July 13 — Capt. George Eyston, English racing driver, smashed his 24-hour world land speed record today with an unofficial average of 149.16 miles an hour.

The tall, steel-nerved Briton, alternating at the wheel of "Speed of the Wind" with a fellow countryman, Bert Denly, sent the 12 cylinder car roaring over 3,580 miles of glistening white salt in the day and night grind.

The record far surpassed the 140.52 miles an hour which Eyston established over the same track last September.

The 24-hour run completed the first half of a projected 48 hour grind in quest of a greater speed than the 109.54-mile-an-hour record four European drivers established several years ago.

The Englishman, eager to boost his day and night grind mark, speeded up before dawn, sending his "Speed of the Wind" thundering around the circular 10-mile track at a 155 to 160-mile-an-hour clip.

The bronzed Briton started a projected 48-hour run here on the world's fastest motor speedway Sunday morning.

He toppled one short record after another with his 12-cylinder car.

First to fall was the record for 500 kilometers at 155.302 miles an hour, breaking the 151.32 M. P. H. of his countryman, John Cobb.

Five hundred miles flashed by at the rate of 152.343, in comparison with Cobb's 147.66 record.

LABOR SET TO VOTE ON REBEL REMOVAL

Leaders Confer Busily Prior to Momentous Decision Slated for Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 13 — Organized labor's chieftains gathered for momentous conferences today on the eve of a vote to decide whether to oust John L. Lewis and his industrial organization cohorts from the American Federation of Labor.

A high tide of activity was reached. Hurried, informal conferences were held as preparations were made for a ballot tomorrow in the federation's executive committee which will determine whether the great labor schism is to occur.

The question facing the executive committee, overwhelmingly opposed to the Lewis plan for industrial organization of workers, was whether disciplinary steps against the Lewis committee for industrial organization would react too harmfully against the federation.

A minority faction argued that organized labor would suffer terrifically if the CIO and the 1,250,000 members claimed by its constituent unions were to be lost to the A. F. of L.

The showdown comes in the early stages of Lewis' drive to organize 500,000 steel workers into one large union. While 15 of the 17 executive committee members were lined up against Lewis's plan the sentiment in favor of suspension was not so close to unanimity.

Indians Trim Red Sox; St. Louis Nearly Loses Lead

DODGERS TAKE TWO FROM CARDS; DEAN STRUCK BY HIT BALL

Cincinnati, After Losing Sixth Straight Game, Wins One from Phils, 4-3.

By The Associated Press

When it comes time to write the history of the 1936 big league campaign, the "breaks" of the week-end just past may tell the story of the up-to-now tight and dizzy National league race.

If the gas house gang from St. Louis misses out on the pennant, it can easily point to the events of those two days as the root of all the evil that befell it.

When Dizzy Dean was knocked out by Burgess Whitehead's line drive in Saturday's game with the Giants, it took from the Cards the one man who has done more than any other to keep them up in the race.

The Dodgers belted out a double-header Sunday victory, 6-3 and 11-4, and just about knocked the gas house gang out of the league leadership.

With the fast-climbing Chicago Cubs breaking even with the Giants, winning a doubleheader opener 4-2 and then dropping the nightcap 8-6 on the strength of a seven-run second-inning New York rally, the Dodgers' double trouncing of the Cards clipped the St. Louis lead to half a game.

The Phillies wrote another chapter in the sudden collapse of the Cincinnati Reds, Joe Bowman pitching a one-hit 4-0 shutout in the opener of a twin bill, stretching the Reds' losing streak to six straight. In the second game, the Reds outlasted the Phils for 11 innings and a 4-3 decision.

The Boston Bees, who played a three-game part in the Cincinnati downfall last week, continued their winning run with a 6-2 victory over Cy Blanton and the Pirates, despite Arky Vaughan's one-man batting spree in which he clubbed out a double, triple and homer.

In the American league, the Yanks were finding the invading Chicago White Sox just as tough as the Cleveland Indians and had to fight uphill to break even in a twin bill, winning the afterpiece 5-4 after Ted Lyons had shut them out 5-0 in the opener.

The Tigers continued the chase after the Yanks with a 7-2 verdict over the Athletics. Johnny Allen let the Red Sox down with four hits for a 5-2 Indian win, and the lowly St. Louis Browns upset the fast moving Senators 4-3.

Diz May Be Back on Mound Thursday

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, July 13—Dizzy Dean reminded friends today he is just the sort of a fellow he has always contended he is—unbeatable, and capable of "taking it."

Knocked unconscious Saturday afternoon by a line drive from the bat of Burgess Whitehead, Giant infielder, the great Cardinal hurler had the permission of his physician, Dr. R. F. Hyland, to take his next regular turn on the mound—probably Thursday.

Dr. Hyland diagnosed the injury as a severe concussion but said last night the pitching ace rallied quickly from the blow which flattened him on the ground, and no ill effects are expected.

Wednesday is tuberculosis day at the Cardinal park and fans are still hoping against odds they will see Diz on the hill against the Phillies.

"Little Bertha" Still A Big Gun in Scotty's Golf Artillery

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE.—The British had better take to cover when Albert (Scotty) Campbell starts pulling the trigger on "Little Bertha" in the 1936 Walker cup golf matches.

"Little Bertha" is a niblick, the first steel-shafted club Scotty ever owned, a Christmas gift from his mother four years ago when he launched his competitive campaign.

The 21-year-old Walker cup "freshman" carries so [illegible] he ought to hire a horse instead of a caddie. But the niblick does all his fine and fancy work around the greens.

"Let me get within 100 yards of a hole and my troubles are over," says Scotty. "Little Bertha will take care of the rest. She never misses. If I ever lost her I'd have to quit."

The greatest shot "Little Bertha" ever sent to a green was in the Canadian amateur of 1935.

"I was playing in the finals with Sandy Somerville and we came to the last hole all square," Scotty recalls. "With his third shot Sandy rolled up within six feet of the cup. I had a bad lie and 90 yards to go. I picked on Little Bertha and fired. My ball dropped dead 12 inches from the pin, laying Somerville a stymie and the match was over.

"That shot won me my second Canadian title."

SCOTTY CAMPBELL

The British are going to hear about "Little Bertha," the old niblick used by Scotty Campbell of Seattle, a Walker cupper.

COLUMBUS DIVIDES DOUBLE BILL WITH MINNEAPOLIS MILLERS

Saints Take Two From Indianapolis in Pursuit of League Leading Brewers.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 13.—Those red-hot St. Paul Saints aren't letting [illegible] stop them in their fight to dislodge the Milwaukee Brewers from the American association lead.

The Saints swept a double bill with Indianapolis yesterday 8 to 1 and 10 to 8 with the temperature at 106. Almost 7000 fans saw the Gabby Street crew win the opener behind Bill Cox three hit pitching and then capture the nightcap to give the veteran Lou Fette his 17th win of the year.

The victory put the Saints just four percentage points back of the Brewers, who split with Toledo. Milwaukee took the first game 5 to 4 and the Hens the second 7 to 1. In the opener Luke Hamlin was credited with the victory.

Some 5000 fans braved intense heat at Minneapolis to see the Millers win the nightcap from Columbus 5 to 4 after dropping the first game 13 to 7. The Red Birds scored nine runs in the third inning to make sure of their victory.

Kansas City whipped Louisville 2 to 1 in 10 innings and then tied with the Indians at 1-all in the second tilt, called at the end of the seventh to permit the Colonels to catch a train. Joe Vance, on the hill for the Blues, and Jack Tising, for Louisville, hooked up in a mound duel in the extra inning game, which was broken up when "Bit" McCulloch doubled and scored on Alexander's single.

Freshman Athletes Hold America's Olympic Hopes

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 13.—Bound for Berlin, America's team of 66 track and field men emerged today from the final tryouts with a flock of familiar faces missing and Uncle Sam's hopes of Olympic conquest largely pinned on the most sensational squad of freshman athletes ever assembled.

They represent a complete entry for all 23 Olympic events, and in many respects the most startling array of performers this country has produced for the quadrennial world championships.

Featuring the list is an extraordinary group of 10 Negro athletes led by Jesse Owens of Ohio State univ., sure to gain three places.

Eight athletes who entered the final trials with reputations as world record-makers, Olympic champions or national titleholders emerged with nothing but the experience.

Outstanding victims of the form reversals included Big Ben Eastman, world record co-holder, who finished a bad sixth, and Charley Beetham, Ohio State's brilliant national champion, who fell and was eliminated in a heart-breaking 800 meter final.

San Francisco's George Varoff, who cleared the world record height of 14 feet 6½ inches in the pole vault a week ago in the national championships, was beaten out by a trio of southern Californians.

Ralph Metcalfe, dusky Marquette flier, five-times national champion, and co-holder of the world record for the event finished fifth and was eliminated in the 200 meter dash. He made the team by running second to Owens in the 100 meters.

Walter Marty, unable to do better than 6 feet 4 inches in the high jump, also failed to make the team. Two Negro rivals, Cornelius Johnson of Los Angeles and Dave Albritton of Ohio State, negotiated a new world record height of 6 feet, 9¾ inches in the most startling performance of the final trials. Marty set the listed mark of 6 feet 8⅛ inches in 1934.

Another west coast favorite, Norman Bright of Sunnyvale, Calif., ran fifth and was shut out in the 5,000 meters, which ended in a dead heat between Indiana's Don Lash and a surprise contender, Louis Zamperini of Torrance, Calif.

Despite these upsets, American coaches and officials found plenty of room for optimism in the make-up of the team that sails Wednesday with the rest of the Olympic [illegible], numbering upwards of [illegible] athletes in a score of sports.

Olympic records were bettered in 10 of 23 events in the final tryouts at Randalls Island stadium. World records were smashed by four athletes, including the two high jumpers, Glen Morris of Fort Collins, Colo., in the decathlon at Milwaukee and by Owens in the 100 meter final yesterday.

Led by Owens who will be America's favorite to capture both sprints and the broad jump, the record-smashing headliners making the team include the two crowned southern hurdlers, Forrest (Spec) Towns of Georgia in the 110 meters, and Glenn (Slats) Hardin in the 400 meters.

The comeback of Glenn Cunningham, world mile record holder, and the sensational development of a fellow Kansan, Archie San Romani strengthen America's bid to win the classic 1500 meters for the first time since 1908.

Cunningham and San Romani ran one two in a thrilling stretch duel yesterday with both being clocked under the Olympic record in 3:49.9.

Trailing them by 10 yards was Pennsylvania's picture runner, Gene Venzke, who beat Bonthron for third place and thus redeemed his failure of 1932.

The Negro talent captured seven of 12 places in the flat races.

GAMES FORFEITED

Games scheduled in the Sunday district softball league for yesterday afternoon were forfeited and postponed. Prospect forfeited both ends of a doubleheader to the Saratoga Grill team, Keytown Camp forfeited two games to the Lucky Nine of Marion and the Lawrence Farm Market-Richwood game was postponed, it was reported by league officials today.

BICKEL GETS STATE TITLE

The 20-year-old Chicagoan defeated Dr. Eugene McCauliff of Detroit yesterday, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 by displaying a consistent and aggressive all-round game featured by exceptional ground strokes. Bickel was seeded No. 2, his foe No. 1.

Six states will be represented when that number of wrestlers enter the arena on Uncapher avenue tonight to mix blows in a battle royal. NORTH LEWISBURG SCORES 5-4 VICTORY OVER SHOVEL TEAM

Invaders Hand Marion Nine Third Defeat of Season; Late Rally Fails.

The North Lewisburg Merchants took the measure of the Marion Steam Shovel baseball team 5 to 4 at Lincoln park yesterday afternoon to end a four-game winning streak of the Diggers. A ninth inning scoring rally of the home team netted two runs but fell short of deadlocking the count. It was the third defeat this season for the M. S. S. aggregation.

The invading team nicked Bill Darnell, Shovel moundsman, for 12 hits, while the M. S. S. squad was able to get only seven safe bingles off the opposing hurler, M. Spence. Kunkle and Baldauf starred in hitting roles for the home team. Kunkle collected the hardest hit of the game, a triple, while Baldauf hit safely in two of three times at bat and scored one of Marion's runs.

North Lewisburg led 2 to 0, after tallying a marker in each the second and fourth innings. The Shovel team scored two runs in the fifth to momentarily tie the count at 2-2. One run in each of the three following innings gave the visitors a 5-2 advantage at the start of the ninth frame. The box score follows.

PASS A CAR ON A CURVE? NOT ME
I NEVER DRIVE ON THE WRONG SIDE
I OBEY ALL THE TRAFFIC LAWS

"I'M THE MOST CAREFUL DRIVER IN TOWN"
—HIS CAR IS NOW A WRECK
WHAT happened? This careful driver was safety-minded, of course. That is, he was when it came to having his engine overhauled periodically—his brakes, steering gear and lights checked regularly. But he never gave the tires a second thought until BANG! . . . A blow-out! He couldn't steer! He couldn't stop. Another accident that might have been prevented.
Luckily, this motorist was not hurt. But does it pay to gamble when blow-outs kill or injure thousands every year? Does it pay to be unconcerned about tires, when, by equipping your car with the new Goodrich Safety Silvertowns, you can enjoy real blow-out protection—at no extra cost?
That's because Silvertowns are the only tires built with the Life-Saver Golden Ply—a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds. By resisting heat, this amazing Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating. It keeps blisters from forming. And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the high-speed blow-out.
Isn't it better to be safe than sorry? Especially when Golden Ply Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires. Come in today.

Wheat Closes Nervous After Major Gyrations Due to Drouth News

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 13—After a day of tumultuous trading and sensationally wide fluctuations grain markets today at the wind up stood little altered from last week's latest level.

Forecasts of abatement of drouth and heat were fulfilled but to a relatively slight extent the promised relief seeming to have spent its force chiefly before reaching the grain belt proper. Rains in Canada were partly offset by official estimates that the 1936 Canadian wheat crop would be reduced to 275,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed nervous ¼-1¼ under Saturday's finish July 1.03¼, Sept 1.03¼-1.04, Dec 1.05¼-[illegible], corn ¾ down to 1¼ advanced Sep 81⅝-82, Dec 76 [illegible], oats unchanged to ⅛ higher and provisions varying from 1 cents set back to a rise of 2 cents.

NEW YORK CITY 'KILLER' HUNTED

Girl Tells Police of Being Mutilated After Refusing To Help Free Luciano

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July [illegible]—[illegible] Jean Be[illegible] [illegible] a killer mutilated her and left her to die after she [illegible] on a promise to help free Charles (Lucky) Luciano vice overlord from Sing Sing prison resulted today in a wide search in New York City for the man she named.

Detectives said that a man answering her description of the [illegible] who carved the [illegible] C L on her body and then tried to kill her by gas had left Washington on a New York bound plane [illegible] a m Sunday.

Expect Arrest Soon

They expressed confidence that he as well as a companion whom the girl described as the possible finger man in the plot would be picked up soon in New York.

While expressing no definite opinion as to the girl's story Chief of Detectives Bernard Thompson said:

"We are investigating this case as an attempted murder."

The 23-year-old girl who was rescued from her gas filled apartment [illegible] by police early Sunday after a telephone operator heard a weak call for help coming over the wire was at the District of Columbia [illegible] hospital today. She was suffering considerable pains from the cuts on her right thigh and abdomen.

Washington and New York detectives were checking every detail of her story that the killer entered her apartment early Sunday felled her with a blow to the face tore off her nightgown cut her with a razor sharp instrument then bound her and gagged her after turning on the gas.

Luciano's Initials

The girl herself was the first to point out that the C L carved in letters four inches tall on her right thigh were the initials of Luciano recently sentenced to 30 to 50 years in Sing Sing as the leader of organized vice in New York. She also called attention to the fact that 3 12 stands for the position of those initials in the alphabet.

The girl said that some weeks ago Luciano's representatives approached her in New York. She said they wanted her to sign her name to an article intended for publication in a newspaper picturing Luciano as a "pretty swell guy" and intimating that he had been framed in the recent sensational vice trial in New York. Luciano is seeking his freedom through an appeal.

The girl asserted that she was given $500 to sponsor the article but then decided not to go through with the bargain. She said her conscience troubled her and she didn't want to be unfair to the district attorney.

Fleeing from New York she came here and took an apartment on New Hampshire avenue a few blocks off Pennsylvania avenue. It was there that the attack occurred.

STEELWORKERS RATE UP OVER 3 POINTS

Consumption Still Heavy Despite Drop in Specifications for Third Quarter

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 13—The national steel works rate this week jumped 3½ points to 69½ per cent the magazine Steel said today in reporting that steel consumption still is relatively heavy despite a decline in new specifications following the third quarter opening.

Moderate buying has been encouraged by the unionization drive in the industry the magazine said adding the possibility of a general steel strike this summer is becoming more remote.

The current operating rate is two points below the level which preceded the July 4 holiday.

Railroad freight car builders experienced a good week. A strong tone was cited in the markets for plates shapes and reinforcing bars. Shape awards were down slightly. Wire producers found their volume of business exceeding expectations.

Steel ingot production during the first six months was the largest for any comparable period since 1930 the magazine continues totaling 21,376,535 gross tons an increase of nearly 33 per cent over the 16,042,051 tons in the same period last year. Operations averaged 69.79 per cent compared with 46.75 in the corresponding months of 1935.

Scrap is slightly stronger and steel's price composite is up four cents to $12.9[illegible]. The finished steel index and the iron and steel composite are unchanged at $[illegible] and $33.48 respectively.

CUYAHOGA CO. RELIEF CRITICS GIVEN REPLY

C of C Admits Lack of Statistics While Davey Repudiates Commission Report

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 13 — The Cuyahoga county relief administration today gained succor from replies concerning two reports which last week attacked relief methods in the state's [illegible].

The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce said "we have no statistics" and that its objection was based largely on reports to the effect that employers find that the highest wage they can afford to offer is often met by a preference to remain on the dole.

Gov Martin L Davey here for the week end repudiated without reservation a part of a report by the state relief commission's investigator here Mrs Dorothy Kiplinger as containing a paragraph that has the germs of Ku Kluxery and poison.

The paragraph said the first serious question ever relief allowances to families in the state of Ohio was brought to the old state relief commission in 1933 by a racial group in Cleveland. This issue was settled not by bringing the racial group in line with the state standards but by bringing public relief in Cuyahoga county up to the demands of the racial group.

From that point, all the allowances of food and other benefits to families in Cuyahoga county from public funds have always been more liberal than in any other part of the state.

Meanwhile the house of representatives prepared to meet at Columbus tonight to take action on the $1,500,000 emergency relief appropriation for the remainder of July. Cuyahoga county was allowed $100,000 last week but an extensive delay probably would bring the county again to the state emergency board for funds.

I HAD no unholy inclination to mirth at Dicky's query which as had marked my hearing of his first absurd and disrespectful gibe concerning Richard Savarin. I remembered a line from [illegible] of George Ade's mentally [illegible] where one of the feminine characters [illegible] that she had listened to [illegible] the [illegible] left in her [illegible].

The first time Dicky's comment had been [illegible] and mirth provoking [illegible] control my [illegible] my statement that half of Robert Savarin's property willed to his sister had freed her from financial worry for the rest of her life. His [illegible] query was so tipped with venom that I felt indignation instead of mirth and I was afraid [illegible] Lidgeon as I answer [illegible] query.

[illegible] half to a [illegible] of [illegible] query [illegible].

"What is this anyway—a minstrel show?" he demanded next. "If so I'll bite. Well Mistah Jones, will you kindly tell us to whom our departed friend did will his mazuma?"

Suddenly I saw red. There was no use delaying the explosion any longer.

"Yes, I'll tell you," I said defiantly. "He gave it to me."

For a long half minute there was silence except for Dicky's quick and heavy breathing. Then he spoke in low tones packed with anger far more deadly I knew, than any explosive wrath of his could possibly be.

"This isn't any time for fooling. If this is your idea of a joke I am distinctly not amused."

I waited until I could control my voice before answering, him, so furious that I could not keep my hands from quivering. I clenched them and concealed them beneath my dress as best I might.

"I am not joking," I said. "He did not will it to me, for he feared publicity, but one of his last acts before he died was to deed half his property to me."

I was deliberately provoking him now. I knew it, but something beyond myself prompted my crass announcement of Robert Savarin's legacy, without acquainting Dicky with the real truth concerning it. He had been so drawling insolent that every catty feminine instinct rose within me, inciting me to let him wait and rage for a bit before I told him the truth.

Another instinct, equally as old told me that if he spent his rage upon this particular announcement of mine he would be more ready to be mollified by the real truth, than if I had told him at first that Lillian was the real beneficiary of Robert Savarin's bequest, and that I was simply the [illegible] of the [illegible].

He [illegible] as I was to keep both Lillian and her husband and also Marion [illegible] ignorance of the whole affair and to make sure that the [illegible] would be handled [illegible] for Lillian and her daughter in case of need. But it would be a different sort of [illegible] than that which was consuming him now.

"Do you swear that [illegible] your [illegible]?" he said [illegible] at last.

[illegible] I [illegible] before answering. There was [illegible] in Dicky's voice which told me that the savage lurking in every man was very near the surface at this moment.

He [illegible] and from the corner of my eye I saw that his hands were clenched so tightly that the knuckles were white. Then he gave an ugly little laugh.

"You needn't be so [illegible]," he said. "I'm [illegible] to wring your neck or [illegible] although my [illegible] just now are distinctly murderous. But I think the inhibitions of civilization will hold this trip.

"However, you're going to do some tall and fancy explaining and I don't mean maybe. It isn't on the free list for some archaic old Lothario to deed half his fortune to my wife and have her expect me to grin at the news. So come clean. What's the dope behind this?"

"Why should there be any particular dope behind it?" I asked.

"Because there must be," he retorted quickly. "Even as musty and befuddled a relic as Robert Savarin must have had some reason for so crazy an act. Is it possible that we've all been mistaken, and that he really was in love with you all along or did you cut out Lillian?"

He was fast working himself into one of his rages, and I knew that he did not realize the atrocious theory he was voicing. But it was one that I could not greet with complacence or complaisance, and with a swift unexpected movement I opened the car door and stepped to the curb.
